REMINDER - NEH Webinar: Where We Are, and Where We Are Going

The National Endowment for the Humanities \(NEH\) is one of the largest funders of humanities programs in the United States. Its current activities include support for the American Tapestry Initiative with its goals of Strengthening Democracy, Advancing Equity for All, and Confronting the Climate Crisis, Humanities Perspectives on Artificial Intelligence, federal and international partnerships, and a new “applicant” experience. Learn more about these activities from NEH Director of Outreach Dr. Russell Wyland and faculty colleagues from around Oregon in a virtual webinar on November 8, 2024, from noon to 1 p.m. Registration is required.

Seminar on Inclusive Excellence in STEM Education

The College of Arts and Sciences, The Division of Equity and Inclusion, and the Biology Department invite you to a seminar on inclusive excellence in STEM higher education featuring David Asai, Ph.D., former Senior Director for Science Education at the Howard Hughes Medical Institute. He will discuss his groundbreaking essay, Ratcheting Equity, in which he proposes the concept of an “equity ratchet” – a mechanism, like a mechanical ratchet, that drives progress forward and prevents regression. The seminar will be held on October 28, 2024, at 4:00 p.m., in the Lee Barlow Giustina Ballroom, Ford Alumni Center, and is open to all UO community members interested in advancing equity within STEM fields. Registration is required.

Graduate Student Resources

The Office for the Vice President of Research and Innovation provides a range of resources, trainings, and tools for graduate students seeking funding for their research, including a website with proposal writing resources, recorded videos about finding and applying for funding outside the UO, and important policies and procedures regarding applications for external funding.
