Strategies for Success: How to Win a Grant Award from IES' National Center for Education Research

The Institute of Education Sciences (IES) is the statistics, research, and evaluation arm of the U.S. Department of Education. Within IES, the National Center for Education Research (NCER) awards competitive grants for rigorous research that address pressing education needs, from early childhood to adult education. Want to learn more? Join NCER Program Officer Dr. Emily Doolittle and faculty colleagues from around Oregon in a virtual workshop on November 16, 2021 from 10:30 am until noon PT. You'll learn more about NCER's Education Research Grants programs and strategies for success in getting a grant from IES. Please register for this event by November 1, 2021. Please contact Research Development Services if you have questions or need additional information. We look forward to seeing you on November 16!

Women's Innovation Network

OVPRI will be hosting the first seminar of the Women's Innovation Network on October 13 from 3 pm to 5 pm. Join us to talk with women founders and CEOs as they share their entrepreneurial journey and how their gender has impacted that journey. The event is a virtual, interactive panel seminar hosted on Zoom, and registration is free. Learn more and register here.

National Humanities Conference in November

The National Humanities Alliance is holding its National Humanities Conference virtually on November 3, 4, and 12. The program will feature a range of sessions about diversity, equity, inclusion, and access across public humanities work. The event will also present annual information sessions offered by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The cost of attendance $50. Interested participants must register here.
