Funding Opportunities for COVID-19 Research

The Office of the Vice President for Research and Innovation has a research UO COVID-19 FAQ page with excellent resources regarding research, including specialized funding opportunities related to COVID-19.

HHMI Gilliam Fellowships

The OVPRI seeks pre-proposals from eligible applicants for the 2020 Gilliam Fellowships for Advanced Study a graduate award program of the Howard Hughes Medical Institute \(HHMI\). The goal of this program is to increase diversity among scientists. Eligible graduate students must be in their second or third year of their doctoral program who have advanced to candidacy by September 1, 2020. Applications are due by January 3, 2020. Since this is a limited submission, please submit a pre-proposal by the internal deadline of September 1, 2020.

Workshop Survey

Research Development Services would like your input on the focus for AY 20-21 educational workshops on research funding. Please help us plan topics most useful for the UO research community by filling out our brief survey.

IES Posts Additional FY 2020 Research Funding Webinars

The Institute of Education Sciences (IES) posted a series of on-demand webinars for those interested in Fiscal Year 2020 funding opportunities and learning more about IES. These pre-recorded webinars are hosted by the National Center for Education Research and the National Center for Special Education Research.

The Medical Research Foundation of Oregon is recruiting for its Scientific Review Committee

The committee of 15-20 members meets in person three times a year to review and discuss grant applications and prepare NIH-style written reviews. Each grant is reviewed and scored by two reviewers, with about 5 applications per reviewer. Appointments are for a 3-year term, with an option to renew for an additional term. Please consider nominating yourself or faculty from your department, school, center, or institute to serve on the Scientific Review Committee. Email an NIH-style biosketch and a cover letter indicating your interest in joining the committee as well as your research grant writing and reviewing experience to research@ohsu.edu by August 12, 2020. Questions can be sent to the same address.

Featured External Opportunities

ACLS Fellowship Program to Focus on Early Career Faculty

The American Council of Learned Societies \(ACLS\) has announced a new focus on supporting early career, non-tenured scholars. For the 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 competitions, the ACLS will limit eligibility to non-tenured scholars who have earned their Ph.D. within the past eight years (October 2012 onward). This change is meant to mitigate the disproportionate effect of the current economic downturn has had on emerging scholars. Applications for fellowships should be submitted by the application deadline of September 30, 2020.
